

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. Indiana's Telephone Privacy law has improved your time at home by eliminating the seemingly never ending phone calls of solicitors at all hours of the day. We used to receive an average of 4 calls per day, now we only receive one per week. I feel Indiana's law has been effective at doing the job if was supposed to do and hope any federal law would not undermine or weaken it.
